

The young woman's initial signs and symptoms are somewhat clouded; however, after forty minutes, while still awake, she responds slowly to questions, is still tired, has a mild headache, and says she "feels a bit slow." She has a mild concussion and a head wound; begin a Level 3 Evacuation. Minimize exertion as much as possible during the evacuation.